About Sivas

Sivas, which is known by names such as Sebaste, Sipas, Megalopolis, Kabira, Diaspolis, Talaurs in various periods, is one of the oldest and most important settlement centers of Anatolia. The first settlement in the region dates back to the Neolithic Age (8000-5500 BC). The foundations of the republic were laid here with the decisions taken at the Sivas Congress held in Sivas High School/Sultanisi on September 4, 1919. Sivas has been under the rule of Hittite, Cimmerian, Scythian, Med, Persian, Roman, Seljuk, Ilkhanid and Ottoman throughout history. The architectural style of the city bears many features of the Seljuk period. The madrasahs, which are masterpieces with their stonework and decorations, have remained standing up to the present and reflect the character of the city.

There are historical buildings in the city center such as Double Minaret, Gök Madrasa, Congress Museum, Buruciye Madrasa.

There are also natural places to visit such as Yıldız Mountain Ski Center, Tödürge Lake, Gökpınar lake and Hafik lake.

If you have difficulties with it, contact us, we will help you.
